Pre-Conference Workshops

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 2005

"You cannot manage outcome, you can only manage risk."
– Peter L. Bernstein, Economist

Dear Colleague:

Fund managers that rely only on asset allocation decisions for returns in a portfolio do not factor the anticipated downside of a specific asset type, which affects the total dollar amount of the portfolio.

Tools like risk budgets look to limit downside risk via tracking error and also set goals for upside returns in a portfolio. Thus, asset managers can gauge the anticipated downside of their portfolios, and take steps to ensure that the risk incurred does not exceed that threshold. But while many plan sponsors want to construct a risk budget, they either lack a basic understanding of the process or are only in the initial stages of developing one.

Many questions arise with regard to constructing and implementing a risk budget strategy. How do you reconcile your assets and liabilities in your investment portfolio? How do alternative investments and derivatives fit into the equation? How should you define risk?

Are you equipped to answer these questions?

Risk Budgeting for Asset Allocation will provide you with an in-depth look at the risk measurement tools that fund managers can use when structuring their portfolios. Attend this conference to learn strategies on how to provide the best possible returns and risk protection for portfolios in the current market environment.

Don't miss out on this opportunity to participate in a unique and timely discussion.

I look forward to seeing you in Boston.

Ricardo Roberts
Conference Director

WORKSHOP A

9:00 AM – 12:00 PM

How to Meet Investment Governance Goals Within your Risk Budget

As plan sponsors and fund managers look to limit their risk, they must keep investment governance challenges in mind as they develop their risk budgets. Attendees of this workshop will learn about:

- Investor goals: Meeting expectations and the role of risk budgeting in asset class and allocation modelling
- Portfolio construction: Challenges of implementation – experience returned versus universe returns
- Monitoring: Measuring how well risk budgeting is working
- What customization means for compliance
- Benefits of risk budgeting education versus increased implied liability/accountability

About your workshop leaders:

Jason Shih is the president of Valence Capital Group (VCG), formerly Chicago Analytic Capital Management. In this role, Jason manages the implementation of the Firm's investment supervision and advisory programs, advising clients on matters relating to strategic policy and investment program design. Prior to joining VCG, Jason held a series of senior posts at Deutsche Bank Alex. Brown (DBAB) as Managing Director. As a DBAB Management Committee member and Head of Products and Services, Jason built and supervised DBAB's investment services platform, including all outside money manager engagements, institutional investment consulting assignments, manager diligence and research programs. Jason received his MBA in Finance from Stanford University and his undergraduate degree in chemical engineering (magna cum laude) from the University of Pennsylvania.

Sharath Sury is chief executive officer of VCG. Prior to the formation of VCG, Sharath was a Vice President at Goldman, Sachs & Co., where he advised a select group of wealthy clients representing several billion dollars in investment assets spanning equities, fixed income, and alternative investments. During his tenure, Sharath also taught several classes of incoming Financial Analysts on topics ranging from portfolio analysis to financial accounting. Sharath received his MBA (High Honors) in Finance & Statistics from the University of Chicago, Graduate School of Business. He received his undergraduate degree in Economics (High Honors) from the University of California.

WORKSHOP B

12:30 PM – 3:30 PM

Asset and Liability Modeling and Performance Benchmarking

As fund managers and plan sponsors look to manage their portfolio from a risk budgeting standpoint, asset and liability modeling play an important role in the process. Attendees of this workshop will learn how to:

- Understand liabilities
- Construct a custom liability index
- Handle retired vs. active liabilities
- Understand liability driven asset allocation
- Consider where bonds go
- Decide where and how much non bonds plans need
- Implement deficit reduction strategies for under-funded plans
- Conduct performance attribution in an asset/liability framework
- Rebalance between the AVL portfolio and surplus

About your workshop leader:

Sean McShea is the president of Ryan Labs Inc. Sean joined Ryan Labs in 1993 and was named president of Ryan Labs in July 2004. Sean was previously the key professional responsible for the introduction and integration of new clients for Ryan Labs in research, indices, and asset management. Sean previously served as a Management Consultant at Andersen Consulting in their financial services practice. He graduated from the Worcester Polytechnic Institute in 1987 with distinction in Industrial Engineering. He received his Masters in Business Administration from Columbia Business School with specialties in finance and accounting in 1993.

WORKSHOP C

4:00 PM – 7:00 PM

Fund Manager Selection Within a Risk Budgeting Context

Plan sponsors face the challenge of finding highly skilled asset-class managers within a risk budgeting framework. Attendees of this workshop will learn about:

- Developing a strategic asset allocation plan
- Selecting asset managers based on anticipated alpha and tracking error
- Setting performance benchmarks for asset managers
- Evaluating managers relative to his/her assigned benchmarks
- Differentiating skilled versus unskilled managers

About your workshop leader:

Robert Kuberek is a senior managing director and a member of the Board of Directors of Wilshire Associates Incorporated. Bob supervises quantitative research and software development for the Equity Management, Fixed Income Management, Total Fund Management and Asset Allocation products. He also heads the information technology division at Wilshire Associates. Bob's responsibilities have encompassed all aspects of analytical development in the Fixed Income Management and Asset Allocation Services, including development of portfolio optimization, risk management, performance attribution, and asset/liability modeling for pension funds and endowments. Prior to joining Wilshire in 1984, Bob was an AVP at the National Bank of Detroit, where he managed structured investments such as immunized bond portfolios and stock option portfolios. Bob received a B.A. from Pomona College and an M.B.A. in Finance from the University of Chicago.
